Homes plan could still be scrapped

DISTRICT councillors could yet make a U-turn on a controversial decision to allow a developer to build 300 homes on the edge of Honiton, after health and education bosses this week claimed key services may be at risk.

overcrowding at surgeries and schools.

Since then, concerns have been raised by EDDC ward member, Councillor Susie Bond, and by Gittisham Parish Council, about the degree of consideration given to the possible impact on Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

In the run-up to the meeting, comments were received from a number of bodies that had been asked to assess the impact of the application.

A letter from NHS bosses sent to the council revealed concern regarding the impact of the development on healthcare infrastructure in Honiton.

Fears over youth club building

A TENANT of the Axminster Youth Centre building fears the premises could be boarded-up at the end of September.

But Axminster county councillor Andrew Moulding says such a scenario is "very unlikely".

Debbie Humberstone runs The Project, which supports young people with mental health issues. The Project is based in the youth centre building, where members meet once a week. It is Devon County Council's decision to close the youth club in its current format that has caused concern about the building. The aim is to replace the current youth club with what is known as a "community-led" club.

Debbie said: "I'm told the youth service can take bookings on the building until the end of September. "But we have no idea what will happen after that.

"I'm led to believe that if there is no viable alternative use, the building will be boarded-up at the end of September. The youth club will cease at the end of the month, and won't reopen in September.

"I don't think they are going to keep the building open on the basis of us using it once a week."

But Councillor Moulding claims a misunderstanding has caused the concern, saying: "I think they (The Project) spoke to an officer who may have said that buildings would be boarded-up if there was no viable

"But in my view that is not the case in Axminster. We have had many expressions of interest.

"At the very least I see it as a building to be used by the college.

"The chance of the building being boarded-up is very unlikely."

When asked if an a community-led youth club replacement would open up in September after the school holidays, he said: "It won't be done in five minutes, but we have expressions of interest from two parties."

Devon County Council is staging a Expressing a Community Interest in Taking Over an Asset or Service workshop on Friday July 18th.

From the editor's chair A proud day for Seaton

THE past few weeks have been highly emotional for those who lost loved ones in the D-Day landings and the subsequent battle for Normandy as the 70th anniversary of the invasion of Europe has come and gone. With D-Day veterans now well into their 80s and 90s, it is likely to be the last significant anniversary to receive such wide public-

The commemorations have also rekindled near forgotten memories of what life was like in the West Country with so many American soldiers billeted in our towns and villages as they prepared for the big push into Europe and the eventual defeat of Nazi tyranny.

For many young Americans, thousands of miles from home and family, their taste of life of rural England was their last experience of normalcy. Whilst their lives were far from comfortable, many being billeted under canvass, they enjoyed many kindnesses from their English hosts and reciprocated with chocolate bars and ring donuts for the kids and fresh fruit for a nation subjected to food rationing.

Such was life in many Devon towns. The kids of that era are now of pensionable age but they still have vivid memories of how the GIs were here one day and gone the next. Such memories abounded in Seaton on Sunday when the great United States of America officially thanked this small seaside town for its "unwavering support and hospitality" shown to their young soldiers.

Seaton branch of the Royal British Legion and Seaton Town Council joined forces to organised an emotional but dignified civic service to mark the unveiling of a plague in which the town received official thanks and tributes were made to all those who did not return.

It was surely one of Seaton's proudest days. Former US Army Colonel John Rudman's father was stationed in Seaton and took one of the first landing crafts onto the Normandy Beaches. He made it through the war - but 21 of the 28-strong contingent on the landing craft never made it off the beaches.

Wherever you looked around Windsor Gardens on Sunday there was a veteran with medals shining in the summer sun. Some of them knew what Sgt Robert Rudman had gone through for they were there as well.

When Colonel Rudman said the real heroes of D-Day were the people of Seaton, there was a collective intake of breath. The GIs would know what he

USA says thanks for GI kindness

THE kindness shown to hundreds of young American soldiers who were based in Seaton in the run-up to D-Day in June 1944 has been officially recognised by the USA.

In a highly moving and dignified civic ceremony on Sunday afternoon, a former American Army officer and the Mayor of Seaton, Councillor Gaynor Sedgwick, jointly unveiled a special plaque thanking the people of Seaton for all they did for the American GIs before taking part in the invasion of Normandy. Many of them did not survive.

Crucial to the honour being bestowed on the people of Seaton was the role of former USA Colonel John F. Rudman whose father, Robert G. Rudman, was a sergeant with H Company, 8th Infantry Regiment, 4th Infantry Division, one of the first Allied units to land on the beaches of Normandy on D-Day. The ceremony in Windsor Gardens was jointly organised by the Seaton branch of the Royal British Legion and Seaton Town Council and included a parade of 17 standards representing Legion branches throughout the South West and other uniforned organisations.

Councillor Sedgwick, who expressed Seaton's thanks and gratitude to the American troops.

She said: "This stone commemorates those brave Amercican soldiers who left these shores in 1944 along with so many others, including sons of local families. Many of these men did not return, their sacrifice has meant that we can live in freedom and peace."

.Colonel Rudman delivered a moving address recalling that out of the 28 in his father's landing craft, only seven young men survived.

He referred to the people of Seaton as "real heroes" for kindness shown to the American troops.

New homes plan may be scrapped

SIDMOUTH

Knowle move is going to tribunal

A SIDMOUTH resident fighting to access information about East Devon District Council's proposed relocation to Skypark is to put his case before a tribunal next month

Jeremy Woodward, of Temple Street, made a request under the Freedom of Information Act in November 2012, for details of relocation working group meetings to be released to the public.

An Information Commissioner assessing the case last month ordered the council to release the reports, but the dispute is due to be put before a tribunal after district council bosses appealed the decision.

And following the announcement of a date for the hearing – August 28th – Mr Woodward has spoken out about the case.

He told Pulman's View: "The Information Commissioner wants EDDC to make public the report on the state of the Knowle buildings – because they say it was produced by external, independent consultants.

"But EDDC has insisted it was an internal matter to help them with their own deliberations and so should not be published.

"However, back in February, when the district council's own scrutiny committee voted for a completely new report to be commissioned without interference from the political leadership, councillors and officers said the report which declared Knowle unfit was independent and professional."

Councillors decided earlier this year to press ahead with plans to move the district council headquarters from Knowle to Skypark.

OTTERY ST MARY

Mayor commits to 'transparency'

OTTERY Mayor Glyn Dobson has assured residents that the town council is "committed to transparency", despite public concerns raised this week regarding councillors' conduct.

 \bar{A} long–running dispute over the council's policy of meeting privately with developers resurfaced at a town council meeting held in West Hill this week, after it was revealed that the full report of the East Devon District Council monitoring officer – who was tasked with investigating the council's actions would not be made available to the public.

The dispute first arose in December last year, when Councillor Roger Giles was accused of breaking confidentiality rules regarding a meeting held behind closed doors.

A report was presented to councillors in April, requesting that they seek further training, but only sections were made public.

The mayor confirmed that councillors had attended - or were due to attend - training courses on chairing meetings, and that the majority of councillors had voted in favour of requesting the publication of the full report.

Road improvement plans go on show

INITIAL ideas for improving transport links in and out of Honiton have been presented to residents, as part of a series of exhibitions taking place this Local councils have been working together to produce a detailed study on the A30/A303 road between Honiton and Broadway, following years of campaigning by local businesses and road users for the route to be developed.

Devon County Council has partnered with authorities in Somerset, Wiltshire and Dorset, in conjunction with the Heart of the South West Local Enterprise Partnership, in an effort to lobby the Government for improvements to the corridor.

And a drop-in session held at Honiton's Beehive centre this week - the first of five taking place across the area - gave residents the chance to hear about the progress of the study so far and the next steps for improving the route.

Andrew Leadbetter, Devon County Council's cabinet member for economy and growth, said: "Improvements to the entire A303 is a priority for our partnership, so we are pleased that the Government is undertaking a feasibility study to consider future improvements along the whole length.

We, however, recognise that securing improvements is a staged process and our aim is to upgrade the route between Honiton and Broadway to support economic growth and increase resilience for our

As part of the study, a recent survey found 97 per cent of road users want to see improvements to the route, known as the 'Holiday Highway'.

The study results will feed into the Highways Agency's review of the route, and the findings are expected to be published later this year.

Cpouncillor Leadbetter added: "Feedback from communities is crucial if we are to put forward an effective business case to the Government for improvements to sections of the road.

"In addition, it will also help us put together affordable and deliverable options that are sensitive to the protected landscape.

■ STUDENT Charlotte Rose, principal Glenn Smith, chairman of governors Lynda Price and student Andrew Sullivan gets the project under way

HONITON College wasted no time and started work on a £1.6 million teaching facility only weeks after funding was secured.

The college received a grant confirmation from the Education Funding Agency in May after two previous bids had failed

A two-storey building will be built on the school playground adjacent to the playing fields, and will house technology and modern foreign languages departments.

It should be completed at the end of the year, with the college taking possession early next year.

As previously reported, the existing technology wing and modern foreign languages building will both be demolished when the new building is completed.

A turf-cutting ceremony took place on Thursday, July 10th, and Honiton College principal Glenn Smith said: "It [the building] should inspire further success."

Homes plan could be scrapped

And correspondence from Devon County Council's education authority uncovered fears about the future provision of school places at Honiton Primary School, should the development go ahead.

EDDC's Development Manager Ed Freeman told councillors at the meeting: "The comments from the NHS raise new issues of which we were not previously aware.

"It is regrettable that some of the consultees mentioned have waited until the eleventh hour before making us aware of the views on this case. However, we have a legal obligation to consider their comments regardless of when they were submitted. Further consideration and discussion needs to take place.'

District Councillor Mike Allen said the deferral was a "profound" result for local people.

He said: "My concerns remain that the road access will be utterly inadequate leading to yet another bottleneck, but even more important is the move by Healthcare and Education specialists to say that capacity has reached a tipping point and any further house developers must contribute funds towards the problems of sustaining a healthy growing town.

"We simply cannot keep adding houses without health, education and jobs to go with new developments."

If councillors reject the application, the developer has already indicated that it will consider an appeal, which could delay the decision even further.

Axmouth jazz legend dies, aged 89

AXMINSTER band leader Clive Smith has recalled how a washing machine saw him become friends with internationally-acclaimed jazz saxophonist, Kathy Stobart, who died this month.

Kathy, who lived in Axmouth, died on July 5th at the age of 89.

She was born into a musical family on Tyneside, and was dancing, singing and playing instruments from an early age.

Kathy (pictured right) turned professional in 1941 and moved to London the following year, where she quickly got involved with an inner circle of British jazz. She established herself in top echelon of jazz, and is described as a jazz legend by fans.

She moved to Axmouth in the late 1980s and came across Mr Smith a few years later.

Mr Smith had played the trumpet in the past, but was running a domestic appliances shop in Axmin-

Mr Smith said to her: "That is a famous name." She replied: "Why?"

Mr Smith said: "Because Bert Courtley played lead trumpet with Ted Heath Orchestra in the 1960s."

Kathy said: "Was he any good?"

Mr Smith replied: "Come on, he was the crème de la crème."

To make a long story short, it wasn't until a few days later when Mr Smith was installing the washing machine that Kathy revealed she was the widow of Bert Courtley, and very grateful for the nice compliment paid by Mr Smith.

They became friends, and Mr Smith has described her as his mentor.

Two years later, in 1996, Mr Smith formed Arcadia Jazz Band under Kathy's close supervision. The band recently gave its last concert, Mr Smith closing it down because of health reasons.

He said: "It is strange, on the day I stopped Arcadia (July 5th) Kathy died."

tatoes for pupils.

And teachers say they are already seeing the benefits of a healthy breakfast in the classroom, with students arriving for lessons more alert and ready to learn.

Vice Principal Andy Holt, who has led the introduction of the scheme, said: "There is a wealth of research that demonstrates how important a good breakfast can be and, even in the short time we have been up and running with the scheme, we have already seen the positive signs in the classroom.

"Teachers have reported an improved level of engagement among students in lessons first thing in the morning."

The college has previously run exam breakfasts to give students a boost ahead of their GCSE and A Level tests, but this latest initiative is designed to make a good breakfast part of pupils' everyday routine.

And Mr Holt said the college was "breaking new ground" to deliver a double-header of free meals.

He added: "Other schools are trying out different ideas but the breakfast club scheme is definitely one we are taking a lead on.

"We are now looking to increase the number of students who take up the opportunity of a free breakfast and also to encourage all our pupils to make an early start and see what is on offer."

Search for 'peace mugs'

LOCAL history enthusiasts are encouraging Honiton residents who may be in possession of a wartime "peace mug" to come forward to contribute to a World War One community project.

A team of volunteers is organising a series of events to retell the story of the war, and organisers hope to pass on reproductions of the original peace mugs to schoolchildren.

Experts believe Honiton residents may still have some of the original mugs, and are now urging them to get in touch and help with the project.

Anyone who would like to contribute can contact Nigel Scarr on 07917 133663, visit www.onehundredyearsgone.co.uk, or call in at the Plantagenesta family history shop in High Street.

Charity dog walkers needed

A CHARITY for the elderly and terminally ill and their pets is seeking volunteer dog walkers in Dunkeswell.

"We are looking for dog walking volunteers to help a resident of Dunkeswell. All volunteers help in the ways that are most appropriate to them, and teams take it in turn to visit housebound owners.

"Any help you are able to give will be very gratefully accepted."

Fine art on display in gallery's new exhibition

SOME of Devon's top artists were celebrated at the opening of the Thelma Hulbert Gallery's latest exhibition this weekend.

The THG Open exhibition brought together a range of artworks from sculptors, painters and designers from across the South West, and prizes were dished out to some of the region's top talent.

Gallery curator Angela Blackwell said: "This year drew a record number of applications from artists across the region. There is such a wealth of talent in the South West and THG is always keen to support and encourage emerging Devon-based artists."

The exhibition, which opened on Saturday, featured work by both established artists and emerging talent, and gallery staff were joined by East Devon District Council's culture champion John O'Leary to present the awards.

The main prize went to Sarah Dudman and Debbie Locke, with Jo Golesworthy and Jez Heeler named runners-up.

The top prize of £400 was sponsored by Bearnes, Hampton & Littlewood auctioneers, ■ BUSINESSES in East Devon have thrown their weight behind a Honiton charity, after raising £250 at a recent breakfast event.

The East Devon Business Initiative — a non-profit making networking group for small businesses — collected £250 for the 'See the Future' eyesight charity at a recent golf day and breakfast event at Woodbury Park.

Receiving the cheque from EDBI Golf Society President Richard Seymour, the charity's founder Leanne Greengrass said: "I am so grateful to everyone at the EDBI and all their guests for raising this money, and equally for the chance to spread the word about our vital work making sure that people look after their vision."

FIREFIGHTERS rescued a woman from a vehicle following another collision on the A30 between Monkton and Honiton this week.

Crews from Honiton and Ottery St Mary were called just before 2pm on Friday (July 11th), after a collision involving two vehicles had left the woman trapped.

Specialist hydraulic equipment was used to release the woman, who was then taken to hospital by air ambulance with serious leg with other awards offered by Bradleys estate agents and Haughty Culture florists.

Winning artist Sara Dudman added: "It has been a lot of fun and we are very grateful for the enthusiasm everyone has shown towards the project we are in the process of creating a whole series of works." Gallery-goers will also get to have their say by voting for the 'Visitor's Choice' prize, awarded at the end of the exhibition, which runs until August 23rd.

Wool needed for knitting projects

■ THE knitting lounge was packed when members met on July 8th

SEATON'S branch of Mothers' Union are appealing for wool donations for its in-demand "K-nit and K-natter" group.

Members have knitted more than 11,500 squares over the last five years for an orphanage in Zambia and demand is not abating.

In Zambia, the squares are used to make blankets which keep children warm during cold nights.

Group members also knit a number of articles - including cardigans and hats - for a unit caring for prematurely born babies at Royal Devon & Exeter Hospital (Won-

K-nit and K-natter member Hazel Evans said: "We are always desperate for wool and would welcome donations."

The branch as a whole has about 30 members and the K-nit and Knatter group averages about 10 persons per meeting.

Can you name these 'Beer Albion' men?

THE organisers of the celebrations to mark the outbreak of the First World War are appealing to Pulman's View from readers for help as they put the finishing touches to their exhibition in Beer next month

Richard Scott has been given a photo by Julie Grabham of men from Beer and Seaton serving on HMS Albion during the First World War and is hoping to identify the men on the ship.

The large number of Beer men on HMS Albion led to Beer Football Club being called 'Albion' after the war," explained Mr Scott.

"HMS Albion was damaged during an Anglo-French attempt to force a way through the Dardanelles in March 1915, and during this attack one of the Beer men on board, Gerald Restorick, was wounded. He was one of the Royal Navy Reserve men who marched away from the village on 3rd August 1914.

"Between the wars Gerald and his brothers ran a building firm in Beer, and he named the houses they built after places he knew from his time in the Royal Navy in the Mediterranean.

"These include Lemnos, which was a Greek island used as a supply base for British troops in the Dardanelles and Seddul Bahr, a town on the Gallipoli peninsula near which HMS Albion destroyed a Turkish artillery battery with her gunfire."

Mr Scott would love to hear from anyone who could help to identify the men in the photo and you can contact him either by email richard@underleys1.fsnet.col.uk or call him on 01297 241570.

'This is great news," said Mr Pook.

Please consider proposals on public speaking

■ WE are writing on behalf of the East Devon Alliance, a non-party-political campaigning group concerned with matters of planning and related transparency of government in our district.

Our membership is drawn from across East Devon and our charter and purpose are stated clearly on our website www.eastdevonalliance.org

The key issues of planning and transparent government intersect most significantly at the monthly meetings of EDDC's Development Management Committee (DMC). Planning applications may come before this body of councillors, rather than being determined on the delegated decision of a planning officer, and that is right and proper. Particularly in cases where applications may be for development in a sensitive location and/or involving large scale destruction of open countryside.

Applications which come before the DMC will have an appropriate recommendation from the experts in EDDC's planning office, i.e. to approve (with or without conditions) or to refuse. On a number of occasions, however, public contributions on the day have contributed to open debate to the extent that officer recommendations have been overturned.

That is not to say that the recommendations were flawed in the first instance. Rather, it is the sign of a healthy democracy that the public voice may be heard, and may inform intelligently the outcomes of what are, in many cases, both contentious and large-scale proposed development. The cost of such democracy in action is small: hitherto members of the public have been allowed but three minutes in which to present their views on the day.

The East Devon Alliance has watched with increasing concern as even that small price to pay, an allocation of 180 seconds (always carefully timed!) in which a member of public may express an opinion, is now threatened. The desire to strip the public of the right to speak on specific planning proposals or planning policy has worked its way through various EDDC subcommittees, and will finally reach a full meeting of Council for a decision on July 23rd.

We respectfully request that all councillors, of whatever political persuasion, consider deeply the principle and issues at stake. We propose accordingly not the introduction of new or complicated practices as far as public speaking is concerned, but the entirely reasonable practice of simply leaving public speaking arrangements as they are. This seems to us a not unreasonable request that would do much to restore public trust and confidence in a council which, for many, has much to prove; not least in respect of its inability to deliver on time a Local Plan.

P. Arnott and J. Withringto, Chairman and vice-chairman, East Devon Alliance

Thanks for supporting Robin's Road Run

WE would like to say a huge thank you to all tractor drivers, exhibitors, stall holders, and the public for attending Robin's Road Run and Rally on July 6th and making this such an amazing day - behind the scenes, working tirelessly and giving so much of your time and

We would like to thank John Jeffries and his crew of gatemen, car park stewards, and road marshals - everything was so organised and professional. Our amazing ladies in the tractor marquee, Lynda (Robin's partner) and family for preparing and serving 180 ploughman's lunches, cakes teas and coffees all day with a smile, and the kind ladies who cooked so many wonderfull, beautiful and tasty cakes.

The local businesses who sponsored us with prizes for our raffle; caterers from The Cottage Cooks and Bakers, who were fantastic coping with the shear numbers that arrived; Nicki Powell, Olive Rowsell, Bridget Fish who worked flat out all day selling raffle tickets; Slim for sorting out the tractor men and their numbers. Also Seawards Coaches, Axminster Drainage and Abba Services for going that extra mile for us.

Margaret Wilson, Alison Mutter, Denis Munt, Francis Letten, Steve Proctor, Robin's family and Lynda's family for endless hours of hard work; our judges Emma and Mathew Burge, tractors and Austin Wells Burr, vintage and classic vehicles; the band Fretwork who played great music and who donated their fees to the Hospice; Axminster Fire Brigade and Axminster Police who attended the show and assisted on the road run and making sure everything was safe and secure, and was all done in their own time voluntarily. Last but not least, freinds Dave and Joy Churchill for letting us use the feilds for parking the huge of amount of people who attended

After seeing how much enthusiasm, and the phone calls, emails, letters of thanks, etc. we are considering maybe making this a yearly or two-yearly event, and improving on what we have done to be able to make even more money for charity.

We think that we have all done you proud Robin. We will let you all know, when all the bills paid and donations are in, how much we have raised for Exeter Hospice.

A souvineer DVD of the Road Run and Rally for you to keep and remembe, including postage postage, will be ready from August 1st for £14.99. To order contact Mrs J. Corbin, Woodbury Farm, Woodbury Lane, Axminster, Devon EX13 5TL or call 07795 098 243. We will send this special DVD of the day to you on a first come, first served basis.

Most of all we would like to thank the public for attending and supporting Robin's Road Run and Rally, for without you we wouldn't have a show.

MIKE AND JUDE CORBIN, Organisers of Robin's Road Run and Rally

Never seen dog fouling sign or warden

■ YOU recently featured a picture of the mayor and another councillor alongside their new notices heralding the presence of the dog warden in Seaton.

It may interest you and your readers that I walk my dog two or three times a day along the esplanade walks and Cliff View Gardens, and I have never seen this sign, nor a dog warden but every day I see piles of uncollected dog mess.

I have written to the council months back asking for firm evidence of the effectiveness of this venture, and suggesting practical ways of dealing with the problem but have heard nothing back except a cursory acknowledgement.

I suspect this sign only comes out when the mayor and her colleagues want to get another picture in the paper.

Cedars outcome is 'good news for everyone'

■ I WELCOME the decision to change the planning permission from holiday occupancy to permanent residency for 37 units on the site of The Cedars at Otter Valley Park, Honiton.

This unanimous decision echoes the recommendation of the town council's planning committee.

I also welcome the decision of the site owners (Oak Tree Parks Ltd.) to develop allotments on the remaining triangle of land with the water and storage facilities that occupants would need.

I suggested this some six years ago and repeatedly since but the town council refused to consider this site, so I am really happy that this opportunity for a good allotment site has come about.

The residents of The Cedars have had to put up with very difficult legal issues for a long time when all they wanted was their own homes. Now they have them and I hope everyone wishes them security and joy.

The final outcome is good news for everyone

Seaton U3A members share different holiday experiences

Seaton University of the Third Age (U3A) an enthusiastic account of a four-day tour of Rome, which she and her husband took a few years ago.

The slides showed hundreds of tantalising glimpses of the art and architecture of the ancient and medieval centres of that great city. The first part of the trip covered the medieval sites - the Vatican including the Sistine Chapel, St Peter's Cathedral, Castel Sant'Angelo and great paintings of Michaelangelo, Raphael and Leonardo da

Later, members were treated to descriptions and pictures of the Ancient City, the Forum, the Coliseum and the oldest Roman building - the domed Pantheon, open to the sky and the rain. These were built nearly a thousand years before the medieval city and were very crowded in by later buildings. The hills of Rome provided wonderful changes of level with the markets built into the hillsides

The palaces of Vespasian and the Traian Column, 42 metres high, were features of the later part of the tour. The great column is made out of many stone cylinders, carved with images of Trajan's victory over the Dacians. The last building mentioned by Wendy was the Monument to Victor Emmanuel II, which was erected in the 1870s to commemorate the unification of Italy.

The next general meeting of Seaton U3A will be on July 22nd when the subject will be "Mercy Ships".

■ SEATON U3A members also recently enjoyed a talk by fellow member Joyce West on her holiday spent "Walking with Lions" in Zimbabwe.

Dan, the owner of the Centre for Rehabilitating Lions at Antelope Park, Givero, has managed to keep his farm in spite of collected cubs whose mothers have been taken by poachers or killed by hunters and the "Walking with Lions" holiday partly finances the operation and also the education of local orphan children.

Joyce and her daughter flew from Johannesburg to Bulawayo with the group with which they were spending their holiday. The group, consisting of nine women and one man, were shown straight to their quarters - tall conical huts recently upgraded with open topped shower cubicals at the back. Unfortunately, the local monkeys pelted the new arrivals with stones!

The volunteers were called to breakfast at 6.30am by the native keepers beating bongo drums. Teams had four tasks per day assigned to them with lion walking being the most challenging. The "walked" lions would not be released into the wild because, if they become tame, they would approach humans who could well be poachers. As the cubs were walked along they are played with, the tasks simulating the hunting skills normally taught by their

Some tasks were less memorable but more smelly, shovelling up dung from the lions and elephants, who generated more income from their rides for tourists. The worst was cutting up the meat of slaughtered cows to feed the cubs.

The most important rule was not to turn your back on a lion or to stare at him. Taking photos was, therefore, very difficult as you had to be alert to all the lions.

The money made goes to help the orphan children, who were all HIV positive, as well as the lions. The more affluent families in the area sent their children to paid private schools with smart uniforms but the others play around the centre until they are 12.

Helping to cope with stress and anxiety

ANXIETY and stress can often create symptoms that in time cause ill-Anxiety is known to produce nophysical ticeable symptoms, such as rapid heartbeat, high blood pressure, and digestive problems. In General Anxiety Disorder (GAD) and Social Anxiety Disorder (SAD) the symptoms become so severe that normal daily functioning. Clinical Hypnosis and Cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) are common treatments for stress and anxiety disorders and can be very effective in changing thinking and responses.

In contrast with CBT and in may ways very similar to Hypnosis Mindfulness and mindfulness-based therapies (MBTs) seek to change the relationship between the anxious person and his or her thoughts.

In mindfulness, the person focuses on the bodily sensations that arise when anxious. Instead of avoiding or withdrawing from these feelings, the focus is on remaining present and fully experiences the symptoms of anxiety. Instead of avoiding distressing thoughts, opening up to them in an effort to accept that they are not literally true, just ideas and imaginings often related to the past or future events but no less unreal in the present.

By remaining present in the moment aware of the breath and the body, individuals can learn that the anxiety they experience merely a reaction to thoughts. By positively responding to threatening events instead of being reactive they can overcome an mistaken stress fightor-flight response, and take control of their life

Acupuncture can improve and maintain health and energy and enhance a sense of well-being

ACCORDING to traditional Chinese philosophy, our health is dependent on the body's motivating energy (qi) moving in a smooth and balanced way through a series of channels beneath the skin.

Acupuncture can affect the quality of qi, your body's vital energy, by the insertion of very fine needles into specific points along these channels. This stimulates the body's healing response and restores natural balance. Treatment is aimed at the root cause of your condition as well as your main symptoms. This approach helps with resolving your problem and enhancing your feeling of well-being. You may notice other niggling problems resolve as your main health complaint improves.

The type of conditions that I mostly see in my clinics include the following: arthritis, back pain and sciatica, poor circulation, low energy levels, hormonal/menopausal symptoms, pregnancy management, fertility problems, weight management, and addictions such as smoking. However, you don't have to be ill in the conventional sense to benefit from acupuncture, sometimes people come to see me because they are feeling low, unwell in themselves, or maybe not sleeping as well as they would like to.

Professional Acupuncturists spend at least 3 years training at degree level to become an Acupuncturist. We are then entitled to join the British Acupuncture Council and to use the letters Lic.Ac., B.Ac.C after our names. We also have public liability and professional indemnity insurance. Many of us have also studied at post-graduate level and are constantly updating our skills and experi-

How to get long hair as soon as possible

PIXIE cuts, bobs and shoulder length hair can perfectly frame a face, but when it comes time to grow out strands for a new style, the wait can be a long one. Forget marking days off the calendar for a Rapunzel-inspired mane. Read on for the fastest way to grow your tresses, sans extensions.

Adjust Your Diet

"A healthy diet that incorporates a mix of protein and nutrients can improve the condition of your hair," says Celebrity Hairstylist and NYC Salon Owner Julien Farel. He explains that balanced eating keeps follicles strong and hair from breaking easily. Dr. Gervaise Gerstner, MD, a boardcertified NYC Cosmetic & Medical Dermatologist, advises to incorporate omega-3 oils. "I recommend salmon or supplements. Nuts are a good source, too, especially almonds."

...But Don't Over Do It

Dr. Gerstner says it's important to keep weight stable and not yo-yo diet, as hair can be affected by extreme regimen changes, in addition to stress and hormone levels.

Get Smart About Styling

It's well known that heat can hurt hair, so limiting the use of a flat iron to three times a week is best, says Dr. Gerstner. She also advises the limitation of sunlight (as it can strip the hair) and blow drying, adding, "A weekly deep conditioner masque is a good idea to keep hair as healthy as possible." According to Farel, many hair care products include the same ingredients as detergents, so it is vital to choose wisely.

Try Vitamins and Conditioning Ingredients

"Phytantriol, arginine and fish oil, and biotin aid in the production of enzymes and hormones which can help stimulate hair growth," says Farel, who suggests his "hero" product: Julien Farel Haircare Restore. The cleanse-treat-condition formula is designed to push regenerating anti-aging ingredients, like hyaluronic acid, deeper into the follicle, scalp and hair, which helps prolong the hair's growth

Dr. Gerstner recommends the use of supplements like Viviscal, which include biotin, vitamin C, and a special complex of shark powder known as AminoMar, to help aid hair growth and scalp stimulation.

Take It Easy

Because stress can affect hair, Dr. Gerstner recommends weekly deep tissue massages to relax body and mind. "The adrenals pump out extra cortisol when we are stressed, which leads to acne, skin inflammation, and possible hair disorders," she says.

Or, you can always take some time off. "Your hair is a reflection of how you feel," says Farel. "If you are healthy, or on vacation, your hair looks great, shiny and is easy to style."

S we go to press, the General Synod of the Church of England will have already been in session for Adays and voted on the proposals for women bishops. Our reflections will have to follow next week.

Billy Graham releases a new evangelistic film on his 96th birthday that promise "people are going to get saved". The new film, called The Cross, is being released on November 7th and features the "powerful" testimonies of two young Christian. Churches across the UK are being offered it for free in commemoration of his memorable Haringay Arena mission 60 years ago.

News from Canon Andrew White at Baghdad shows no peace and continuing need for prayers. A total of 2,500 people have been killed this month, one million people have fled their homes. The whole infrastructure of the nation has disappeared and the needs are greater than ever. If people want to communicate with Baghdad it can only be done by private email apbw2@cam.ac.uk

We should continue praying and keep helping as the needs are so great. Last week Canon White did an interview for CCN and BBC Radio 4 for the Today Programme. Prayers are needed for the whole Middle East, and donations may go to www.frrme.org or to PO Box 229 Petersfield Hants GU32 9DL.

The Methodist Conference has been meeting and endorsed the proposals in the report of the Anglican-Methodist Covenant Joint Implementation Commission (JIC) despite some concerns still about bishops. Next step is reference to the General Synod.

These will mainly be on Monday, August 4th when churches will be open all day with records of the fallen, with other material, and in certain places prayers said probably at 12noon. In the case of Seaton, the 70th anniversary of D-Day was observed on Sunday, July 13th with a dedication service and a joint parade by USA and British forces, which included from the Americans a gift of thanks in the form of a granite block for Windsor Gardens, Seaton.

At Colyton the parish church will have mementos on display on Monday, August 4th from 9.30am with records of the fallen, and short prayers at 12noon. Ottery's Parish Church hosts a concert by the Wealden Wind Quartet on Friday, July 18th at 7.30pm together with the church choir and other musical items. Tuesdays see Coffee & Chat in the church from 10am to 11.30am - join with others to meet and have an interesting time. Home Groups welcome newcomers, details are on posters at the church.

JOY White is our 60 seconds guest this week. She is a photographer and co-owner of The Light Gallery and Studio in Axminster.

WHERE were you born and where did you grow up?

I was born and grew up in Somerset, on the edge of the Somerset Levels. I remember picnics by the river opposite our house and lots of bike rides in country lanes.

TELL us about your career and how you became a pho

Being a photographer was my dream whilst at school but I had no idea it would become a reality. After finishing my A-levels, I took a gap year and immersed myself in photography, deciding then to undertake a three-year course in photography instead of my planned degree in history. Following that, I went on Photographic Society and I was the youngest to gain this in my field. A few years later, I was invited to sit on the ex-amining panel for the Licentiateship of the Royal Photographic Society, which I did for many years, viewing thousands of photo-graphs from all over the world. I have enjoyed the freedom of being self-employed ever since I began my freelance photography business at the age of 21. One highlight was having one of my landscape images repro-

It was of my sister standing on a huge fallen branch in woodland - I still remember taking it now, with my camera my grandparents had given me for my seventh birthday. think it was a bit shaky though!

duced on a poster by a well-known store and selling over

DO you prefer camera film or digital?

For my landscape work I would always choose my big film camera! I love the feel of it, the way it makes you approach your photography slowly, taking your time with composition and waiting (sometimes for hours!) for the right light and atmospheric conditions. However, I am intending to purchase a digital back for my favourite big camera, so I might obtain the best of both worlds! Digital is great of course for our portraiture in the studio, especially when photographing babies and children — it is great to be able to see instantly the results.

HOW long have you been in the Axminster area, and what brought you here?

I moved to the Axminster area 18 years ago after completing my three-year photography course. I spent a short time in London, but found myself being drawn to this area primarily because of its proximity to the sea. I need to live near the sea! I also love Axminster's geographical location being in Devon, but close to the borders of Somer-

FOR a relatively small town, Axminster has quite a few galleries. Why do you think that is?

I am not surprised about the number of galleries because Axminster has a strong community of artists, craftspeople and musicians – and I hope even more galleries and artists' studios will open here

WHERE is your favourite holiday destination?
My husband Drew and I feel we are often on holiday as we can pop down to Lyme Regis, Charmouth or Burton Bradstock at the weekend or even after picking up our daughter from school for a late afternoon at the beach. However, for a city break, I love Paris – I have said to my daughter that I will take her on a trip to Paris for her seventh birthday next year and I can't wait to show her some of my favourite spots there. For a family holiday, Italy is my favourite!

ANY other business...

I am involved in fundraising for Membury's playing field so we can make it an inspiring place for the young people in our village community to meet and play. We only have two old swings and one rocker, not even a slide. We would like to make it a place everyone of all ages enjoys using, and we would like to get our inspiration from our rural surroundings and design a space that uses lots of timber, logs and natural materials. We are looking at making simple structures where the children can use their imagination to play — but we need funding to be able to do this so we are busy fundraising and looking for any grants available. We are de-lighted we have been shortlisted for Lloyds Bank Community Fund but we need votes. Voting starts on September 2nd in the bank, online and by SMS. We would be very grateful for your votes for Membury Playing Field.

Rotary welcomes new member

THE Rotary Club of Axminster has welcomed new member Jack Bannister from Membury.

Sponsored by past president Malcolm Reynold, Jack joined the club after a few weeks as a lunch-time meeting visitor.

Jack moved to Membury in 2003 from Buckinghamshire following retirement from the public sector. He said he considered joining Rotary as an opportunity to contribute something back, and that he found the light-hearted, relaxed approach of members at Axminster very refreshing and their obvious committment to supporting the community in all sorts of way something he could identify with.

The club meets at the Conservative Club, Silver Street, Axminster, every Friday at 12.30pm for lunch at 1pm. Visiting Rotarians or those wishing to know more about Rotary can call secretary Nick Smy on 07970 710983.

Forest school explores importance of the bee

THE East-Devon based outdoor pre-school, Ecoexplorers, will be playing an important role this week in the future of bees.

The forest school group, for children aged nought to five, will be learning all about the role of bees as pollinators, pollinating about a third of our food crops, and honeymakers.

Children will complete a national survey by Plantlife to find out what colour, number and type of flowers best support bees.

Claire Mountjoy, an Ecoexplorers leader, said: "This is important work as wild honeybees are now believed to be virtually extinct in the British Isles and the number of beehives kept has declined by 53 per cent over 20 years.

"We are encouraging the children to make bee homes and plant bee friendly flowers in their own gardens, whilst also having lots of fun exploring the fantastic diversity of wildlife at Coombe Farm, near Axmouth."

British Railways retiree gives talk PETER Lugg had a distinguished career came an expert on welding and materials in British Railways, but started out as a locomotive cleaner for the Great Western Railway at their Old Oak Common depot in London in 1946.

He gave a fascinating talk to Thorncombe Rail Activities Club on his experiences and provided many insights into railway practice.

His interest was kindled long before when, at the age of three, he was hoisted on to the footplate of the King George V at Paddington.

Peter progressed through the ranks of firemen and drivers, then after a period as locomotive inspector moved on to the civil engineering side of railways. He became an expert on welding and materials for the permanent way.

Finally, after retirement from British Railways, he acted as consultant on the rail for the Channel Tunnel and supervised the provision of track for this huge project.

His talk was illustrated with many slides of fine locomotives and the places where he had worked. Of particular delight was the view from his office window in Marylebone, directly above the A4 Pacifics using the station.

The next club meeting is tomorrow (Wednesday) when Simon Foote will give a talk titled "Salute to the Great Western and Southern" at Thorncombe Village Hall, 7.30pm. Non-members are welcome.

LAST Saturday's performance of 'Churchill' by Pip Utton was an opportunity to thank Honiton businesses, volunteers and Friends of The Beehive for their support in getting The Beehive Centre up-and-running. They were treated to a portrayal of Winston Churchill that was funny, insightful and poignant. Pip Utton pulled this off with great skill and kept his appreciative audience fully entertained.

Local businesses making made major contributions to fitting out the centre have been acknowledged by a series of hexagonal plaques on a wall in the reception area and include, Halse of Honiton, Quested, MC2, Soft Options, Wine World, Otter Brewery, Core Office IT, Moshulu and Denhay Farms. Joining these plaques will be one to celebrate the award of £10,000 from "Awards for All" (Lottery) that The Beehive received last month.

Of the £110,000 that was the fundraising target for Friends of The Beehive, £70,000 has been raised and spent to-date. This is the result of two year's hard work securing grants, putting on fundraising events and the generosity of local people. Thank you.

A fully equipped Cinema at The Beehive is the next target. With the funds currently held by Friends of The Beehive, a grant from "Parishes Together" and with other funding, it is hoped to have a cinema in place by September/October. In the meantime Honiton Community Cinema continue their sterling work in bringing Oscar winning films to the town with their showing of '12 Years a Slave' at The Beehive this Friday, July 18th

TICK TOCK, TICK TOCK

It's Time for Hickory Dickory Dock

MEMBERS of Axminster Drama Club have been putting the finishing touches to their summer show – Hickory, Dickory, Dock.

Hickory Dickory Dock is being staged this week following months or rehearsals.

It is only the second time the show, which has been written and directed by Andrew Coley, has been produced.

It was originally staged by Ottery Community Theatre in 1998, but has been reworked to include the strong cast of children who are members of Axminster Drama Club.

The story revolves around the children's poem after which the show is named and sees the characters go off in search of a magic rhyme to help free one of the leading characters who has become trapped by the actions of one of the baddies.

Add to that a dragon in the cellar and humour on different levels and you have all the ingredients of a modern fairytale.

It is being staged at Axminster Guildhall from Thursday, July 17th to Saturday, July 19th, with shows starting at 7.30pm, as well as a matinee on the Saturday.

Tickets for Hickory Dickory Dock are available from Archway Bookshop, in Church Street, Axminster, priced £8 for adults and £7 for children in advance or £10 and £9 respectively on the Shanty Theatre Company return to the Marine Theatre!

IT'S night time on Dartmoor and a cold wind whistles through the bracken and gorse, making them sing. Deep in his castle, the Story Giant is dying. Through the centuries he has gathered all the tales in existence. All that is, except one.

Tonight his very life relies on finding it.

Exploring folklore, myth and fairytale from around the world, join Shanty Theatre Company as we meet ghosts, talking skulls, monsters, thieves, tricksters, dragons, and homing chickens in an adventure to find the last story on earth.

But the giant knows all of these tales, and a great many others too. Adapted from the book by legendary Liverpool poet Brian Patten, this really is a family production, brought to you by the company who were last seen at the Marine in 2012 with their hit production of 'The Rime of the Ancient Mariner'. To be enjoyed by anyone of seven years and older!

Shanty Theatre Company perform The Story Giant at The Marine Theatre from Friday, July 25th to Sunday, August 10th, and Thursday, August 21st to Thursday, August 28th. Performances take place at 7.30pm Tuesdays to Fridays, and 6pm on Saturdays and Sundays.

Tickets are £9 or £7 concessions, and a TheatreFriends Discount is available. LYT members can come for £11

Volkswagen Launches Special Edition Transporter to Celebrate 60 Years in the UK

VOLKSWAGEN Commercial Vehicles is celebrating 60 years of the Transporter in the UK with the launch of a new special edition model - the Sportline 60.

The new model replaces the current Sportline and is available in short and long wheelbase forms as either a Kombi or panel van. Distinguished from the rest of the range, the striking exterior features unique 18-inch five-spoke Anthracite alloy wheels, black steel side bars, gloss black door mirror covers and special decals, the Sportline 60 is one of the most stylish T5 Transporters ever of-

Inside, the Sportline 60 is generously equipped. Customers are treated to a host of premium creature comforts including an upgraded Kenwood sat-nav infotainment system which features smartphone mirroring functionality, DAB and Bluetooth connectivity. Front and rear parking sensors with camera also come as standard along with new quilted and embossed leather upholstery featuring a special Sportline 60 edition logo.

Also included in the standard specification are a front seat armrest; electrically adjustable and heated door mirrors, electric windows, ABS, climate air conditioning, remote central locking and stereo with CD player.

Like the model it replaces, the new Sportline 60 distinguishes itself from other vans on the road with a number of distinctive styling cues. At the front, colour-coded front bumper and lower spoiler combine with a chrome grille. At the rear a roof spoiler, a colour-coded bumper and unique Sportline 60 badging add to the distinctive look. Available in metallic Reflex Silver or Deep Black as standard. Candy White with a Deep Black roof is available as an option.

The Sportline 60's purposeful appearance is matched by the power that drives it. Thisspecial anniversary modelcomes with Volkswagen's top of the range 2.0-litre BiTDI 180 PS engine, offering up to 400 Nm of torque. Customers can choose between a six-speed manual or sevenspeed DSG gearbox. Retail prices start from £29,940 (ex. VAT) for the manual transmission (short wheelbase) and rise to £34,170 (ex. VAT) for the DSG transmission (long wheelbase).

First sold officially in the UK in 1954, the Transporter range has formed the backbone of the Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles range for six successful decades. Over the years, the Transporter has helped millions of owners build businesses and fulfil dreams. From globetrotters to gardeners, the Transporter has become the default choice for many generations. And while the Transporter has evolved dramatically during that time - through five generations - the philosophy and vision that created the original still holds true.

To date, more than 300,000 Transporters have been sold in the UK, with 18,350 sold in 2013 alone. The current Transporter range is one of the broadest in the commercial vehicle sector and comprises of panel van, Kombi, Shuttle, Caravelle and California variants.

New Citroën C1: Naturally Urban

the popular city car that has sold more than 780,000 examples worldwide since launch in 2005

With a cheerful personality, attractive styling and impressive efficiency, the New Citroën C1 delivers an upbeat response to today's urban mobility requirements and reflects the bold renewal of the Citroën brand. The New C1 is available as both three and five-door versions as a hatchback and as a new open-top body style, named Airscape.

BUYER PROFILE

The New Citroën C1 is positioned in the A segment (city cars). Buyers in this sector span all generations, with the highest representation amongst younger buyers. Customers are motivated by a combination of affordability, efficiency, attractive styling and driving pleasure.

Two main customer demographics are anticipated for the New Citroën C1;

The first will be young drivers, typically under 30, the majority being female. They are looking for a stylish and affordable city car that is economical to run and fun to drive.

The second group are older couples looking to downsize both economically and practically.

For all buyers, the New Citroën C1 will represent both the 'smart' choice, combining comfort, economy and functionality and the 'fun' choice, with customisable style, the latest technology and an enjoyable driving experience.

IRRESISTIBLE STYLING

The New Citroën C1 combines a dynamic, lively design with a spacious, colourful interior and compact exterior dimensions. The styling is underlined by the seemingly continuous glass area from the windscreen into the side windows, with black windscreen pillars and depending on the trim level, chrome-finished weather strips and dark tinted rear windows

The front features all the key characteristics of the brand's newest models, with a new two-part headlamp signature and integrated LED daytime running lights creating a smiling front-end gaze in addition to emphasising the car's cheerful design and strong character.

The lighting effects continue at the rear, with a glass tailgate and the newly designed square light clusters demonstrating a striking 3D effect.

The New Citroën C1 is available in eight exterior colours (including four metallic shades) - (M), Carlinite Grey (M), Tapenade Grey, Lipizzan White, Scarlet Red and Sunrise Red, which can be personalised with a choice of chrome door mirrors and door handles on the Flair trim level.

For a touch of urban chic, 14 or 15-inch wheels and covers, and 15-inch diamond-tipped alloys are

The interior of the New Citroën C1 is bright and airy with a colourful ambience. With clean, structured lines, the dashboard can feature bright colours on the multimedia panel, air vents and gear lever base. A leather-trimmed steering wheel is also fitted as standard on Flair versions

The New S 65 AMG Coupé: Unique Exclusivity and Performance

THE S 65 AMG Coupé is the new twelve-cylinder top-ofthe-range model in the S-Class Coupé series. Unique drive comfort, benchmark performance and exquisite appointments are all hallmarks of this two-door vehicle. The irresistible contours of the V12 Coupé are accentuated by a host of expressive design elements in high-sheen chrome. The AMG 6.0-litre V12 biturbo engine, with an output of 630 hp and 1000 newton metres of torque, is unique in its segment, as is the AMG sports suspension, based on MAGIC BODY CONTROL with curve tilting function and ROAD SUR-FACE SCAN.

Tobias Moers, Chairman of the Board of Management of Mercedes-AMG GmbH: "There are AMG fans for whom our V12 biturbo engine is the measure of all things. For this clientele we have developed a unique car in the form of the new S 65 AMG Coupé. From driving dynamics to comfort and equipment - our new twelve-cylinder coupé surpasses even the highest of expectations.

Mercedes-AMG's unique range and long V12 tradi-

Coupé, Saloon, Roadster and Off-roader: following the S 65 AMG, the SL 65 AMG and the G 65 AMG, the new S 65 AMG Coupé is the fourth AMG high-performance car with a V12 engine. No other car manufacturer in the world offers such a wide portfolio of twelve-cylinder vehicles as Mercedes-AMG. Back in 2003 the performance brand of Mercedes-Benz presented a coupé with a powerful V12 biturbo engine in the form of the CL 65 AMG (C215 model series). Its successor, the CL 65 AMG (C216 model series) was available between 2007 and 2014 and was the direct predecessor to the new S 65 AMG Coupé.

Twelve-cylinder engines are still considered the pinnacle of engine design. Among connoisseurs the AMG 6.0-litre V12 biturbo engine in particular is seen as an outstanding example of its type. Open the bonnet of the S 65 AMG Coupé, and it is immediately obvious why: the exclusive carbon fibre/aluminium engine cover is synonymous with the exceptional strengths of the V12 engine, built in Affalterbach according to the "one man, one engine" principle. Apart from serving as an AMG hallmark confirming superlative precision and production quality, the AMG engine plate bearing the engine technician's signature is also a clear testament to the peerless DNA of Mercedes-Benz's high-performance

Prospects of promotion for league teams

THE Seaton Tennis Club League teams are almost all faring very well over at the halfway stage of the sea-

The Mens and Ladies A teams holding their own in divisions two and one of the Exeter & District League and the Mixed Teams in mid-table positions in divisions one, two and five of the East Devon Tennis League.

The Ladies A team is to be congratulated on an excellent showing following promotion last summer. They have beaten the top two teams Torquay A and Victoria Park and have managed to drop very few sets in the most competitive division in the league.

Similarly, the Mens A team, which as runners-up last summer had the option of going of going into Division One but preferred to stay in Division Two, is producing good results in this tough division.

The Mens B team has the best chance of the club's nine league teams to gain promotion. They beat Newton St Cyres 8-0 on Tuesday, July 1st and have moved back into second position in Division Six.

The Mens C team are also chasing promotion with only one loss so far this season and has the added incentive of perhaps playing the B team next summer if it moves up to Division Six!

The Ladies B team is performing well in Division Four having moved up last summer.

They have lost only narrowly to the top two teams, Budleigh Salterton and David Lloyd B, and is still in with a shout for promotion, though it is looking less likely following a close defeat on tie-breaks 4-7 last Wednesday at Newton Abbot.

The new Ladies C team is in the top half of Division Six and is allowing new players to gain their first experience of representing the club in league matches.

Similarly the mixed C team, whilst not able to repeat the other teams' successes, is also enabling new players to join the team and experience the fun of playing league matches. Seaton Tennis Club has a full range

Seaton Tennis Club has a full range of junior, teen and adult coaching programmes, ranging from beginners to performance standard.

There are seven club sessions at different times during the week, adult beginners and intermediate Pay and Play sessions twice a week and a Cardio Tennis session on Saturdays to get pulses racing.

Graham trails brother James in Otter Rail and River Run

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

with Judy Davey

A GOOD few Honiton Running Club members graced the Otter Rail and River Run 10k based at Tipton last Saturday. James Reeves of South West Road Runners won the race in the excellent time of 36 minutes 57 seconds. Running for Honiton, his brother Graham was not too far behind coming 5th in 40:03. Tim Legg came 10th in 42:54 winning his age category as did Julie Payne who came 36th in 47:44. Esme Moffett had a great run to come 55th in 50:09 and Mark Andow was next back finishing 63rd in 51:18. Sam Shute completed the Honiton line-up to come 127th in 1:06:43. There were 141 finishers.

Honiton Running Club's own Blackdown Beauty took place last Saturday around the Blackdown Hills' countryside. It started off as another hot one but it cooled down during the afternoon to ideal running conditions. The rain came down but it did stay off until most of the runners had finished and were able to shelter in a barn whilst still enjoying the barbecue. The main choice of routes was either 18 miles or 10 miles with runners able to pick which points they ran enabling them to run a distance of their choice. The base was at Priors Park Farm, Culmhead courtesy of Jim Hill and family. The long route took in 4 pubs as well as a cream tea taking runners to Pitminster and then on to Clayhidon before a visit to Pear Tree Cottage, Stapley for the delicious cream tea, appreciated by all. Thank you to the Parry family for the use of their gorgeous garden and all the ladies of Smeatharpe WI for making the scones and serving welcome cups of tea. Once fed and watered, runners went on to Churchinford before running back to base. Thanks to everyone who helped in any way as well as all the landowners but especially Jim Hill for giving up part of his farm for the day by providing the ideal base for the run including a barn for the post race barbecue. Keep an eye on the website www.honitonrc.com for the winter version - The Blackdown Beast due to be held in January.

Howard Bidmead was in charge of the backup car for the Beauty so didn't run the route which meant he could run the Bridport Jurassic Coast 10K on Sunday, It's starts and finishes at the Bridport Leisure Centre and is nearer 12K than 10. It winds its way out to the coast path where the runners climb Thorncombe Hill, the second highest point on the Coast path. Runners are greeted there with spectacular views of the Jurassic Coast before the descent back to Bridport via West Bay. Howard was extremely pleased with his run finishing in 58m 21s and taking a prize for 3rd O50 vet male. There were close to 100 runners and Howard finished well up

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

with Dave Mutter

JOSH d'Albertanson was the victor in the Junior July handicap taking 16:43, with Ollie Caute 2nd, 11:25; Ethan Day 3rd, 12:00; Bobby Simpson 4th, 12:02 and James Knapp 5th, 13:25. On a good evening for running all 5 broke their PB. It's now tight at the top of the Junior ranking with Mia Bartlett 1st 118 points, Ethan Day 2nd, 117 and Adam Burrough 3rd, 114.

Mark Harding-Perrott was the senior handicap victor in 29:33, followed by lan Apps 2nd, 22:43; Chris Keefe 3rd, 22:33; Steve Maclure 3rd, 25:54; Richard Hale 4th, 26:26 and Alan Morbey 5th, 27:05. Steve Maclure has a clear lead in the Senior rankings with 105 points followed by Amie Sibley 86 and Richard Hale 82.

Justin and Lynn Sloman completed The Blackdown Beauty 18ish mile social run on Saturday. This was the longest distance Lynn had ever run and she did really well to complete the whole distance. The weather gave perfect running conditions and the cream tea was fantastic.

On Saturday two AVR's ran the Otter Vale Rail & River run 10k race at Tipton St. John. Rain had been forecast later on but fortunately it was a pleasant, warm and sunny morning for the 141 runners and the many spectators. The 10k race was won by SWWR James Reeves. Not too far behind in 4th spot was AVR's Patrick Divine-Wright in an impressive time of 38:38. Our other AVR competitor was Eleanor Wood who finished 27th in 45:51, winning the ladies over 50 award. Many thanks to Jo Earlam and the Tipton St. John playing field association, along with the help of Sidmouth RC for putting on such an enjoyable and reasonably flat road, track and field's race. As it is such a good race, it would be nice to see a few more AVR's participating next year as they would really enjoy this scenic run. There is also a junior fun run for youngsters.

Meanwhile on Sunday Emma Kiernan ran the Wellington 10 mile race this morning and finished 21st out of 92 in 1:15:32l.

It was another early start for Luke Reed as on Sunday he was in Plymouth ready to start the Olympic distance Triathlon at 7.30am. The race was 1500m swim, 25 Mile bike & 10k run. Luke had a good swim in 22:23 then a solid bike on an undulating course 1:18:03. The race finished with a tough 10k run with 550 ft. of climbing. Luke's time of 43:45 was one of the top 10 run times of the day giving him 14th place overall out of 220 starters.

Some AVR families are keen to get their youngsters involved in running and 8 year old Darcie Morton is proving to be a fine talent. She not only took part in the Tipton 1.5 mile Fun Run but won the under 10 girls race – a super effort.

Tim Lenton, James Jackson and Robin Carter with Ben the dog headed to Belstone on Dartmoor to do the Cosdon Beacon fell race put on by Okehampton Running Club. This is a stiff rough uphill of 315 metres and back all in 5.2 km. It was a great little race and part of Belstone village fair. Tim was 2nd in 30:03 and did get a course record but was piped to the post by a young James Best of Tavistock RC in 29:06 James was 4th, 31:18 just beaten by Andy Vallance of Okehampton. Robin was 1st lady and set a new course record for the ladies of 37:35.

Six AVRs took part in a social "Petal Run" on Sunday, named for its six loops from Colyton looking (rather unconvincingly!) like a flower's petals. Garry Perratt and Matt Clist ran all six loops for a total distance of 40 miles, Phil Bayliss covered 30 miles and Chief Pacemaker Paul Tolchard did a fine job of keeping the speedies at a sensible starting pace on the first 7-mile leg! The stars of the day, though, were Amy Greenhalgh who had previously never done further than a marathon and Eleanor Wood who ran a significant PB at a race the day before rather than resting like the rest of the gang, both ladies clocking up an impressive 35 miles each. Many thanks to Phil Bayliss for hosting the run and keeping the runners supplied with tea between each the end of the season it is now a straight race for the title between Uplowman and Flamingos – and they have yet to play each other! Signs south west chance of the title vanished when they came up against the league leaders Uplowman, At quarter time SSW had a 27-25 lead, but by half way Uplowman had edged 2 goals in front at 37-35 and with Viv Grant playing well they were 45-39 ahead going into the final period Then Faye Hawkins got Signs South West motoring and they fought hard and gradually reduced the deficit, only to fall agonisingly short by 1 goal to lose 49-50!

Winning their first match against a foursome from Cullumpton and gaining a place in the final 8. Uplowman close in on title

For the second week in a row OPG found themselves losing, this time to Tip Top Trees, effectively ending their title hopes. With Jenny Robinson playing well for 3Ts they were always in control and although Kirsty Wackley worked tirelessly for OPG and they gradually reduced the arrears they fell short and the Trees recorded a very good 57-54 victory. Hi Q and JD Tyres fought out a mid table battle with honours going to Hi Q by 51-42 thanks to good play from Jaz Chester, whilst Sam Brunskill played well for JD. Howden Hawks have come late to the party and after six games without a win they gained a draw against Hi Q and then last week went one better with a win against OPG, following it up this week with a fine victory against Sidmouth Toucans, making it 3 games without defeat! Hawks, with Alice Quick playing well had the bit between their teethe form the off and led from the start. Although Louise Neilsen worked hard for Toucans they could not catch Hawks who finished with a comfortable 70-53 victory.
